

Jacqueline Mulhallen

Jacqueline Mulhallen's interest in Sylvia Pankhurst is both as an artist and as a political figure. In 1987, Jacqueline wrote and performed for Lynx Theatre and Poetry a play, Sylvia, which was accompanied by slides including nearly all Sylvia's known paintings. The play toured for ten years all over England and Ireland and the company found a magazine dated 1908 with reproductions of paintings by Sylvia which had not been seen before. Jacqueline's article about them was published in the Women's History Magazine, Summer 2009. She has also written for BBC radio and for publications ranging from the Journal of the Royal Society of Medicine to Spare Rib. Her book, The Theatre of Shelley, will shortly be published by Open Book Publishers.
